

CSY'S IMPACT

Army Specialist, D.C., graduated from CSY in 2015. "CSY saved me, literally," D.C. recalled. "I went from having nothing and being in a dark place before CSY, to truly sensing who I am and who God calls me to be," he said.

Today, he is in his fourth year of military service and is currently in his third overseas deployment as a Bradley Fighting Vehicle System Maintainer and Motor Transport Operator recovering stranded military vehicles from the field.

He has served as Lead Mechanic and managed teams of other soldiers reporting to him. He has participated in over 100 rescue operations and often endures days with little to no sleep. He's been honored with four Army Commendation Medals and received other awards as well.

He credits his skills in and out of the field to his first line maintenance team at Fort Riley and praises CSY saying, "I would not be the mechanic and leader I am today if it were not for the CSY teachers."
